

SEAGULL JOURNALS

A Peer-Reviewed International Multidisciplinary Research

ISSN : 2584-1963 (Approved)

400 Days: The Detective-Mystery and Love Fiction

Dr. Santosh Prasad

Asso. Prof. & Head

Dept. of English

Sant Tukaram Mahavidyalaya, Kannad.

Abstract:

Keshav Rajpurohit, an aspiring IPS officer and amateur detective, is approached by Alia Arora, a glamorous ex-model and neighbor, whose 12-year-old daughter Siya has been missing for nine months. The police have given up, but Alia refuses to let go. Keshav, drawn by the mystery and Alia's determination, agrees to investigate.

As he digs deeper, Keshav uncovers troubling family dynamics, cryptic online messages, and a chilling clue from Siya's younger sister about the kidnapper's appearance. The trail leads to a shocking revelation involving a trusted family priest and a disturbing ritual. Keshav rescues Siya from an abandoned sugar factory, but the emotional fallout is intense.

Key Words: Detective-Mystery Fiction, India, Chetan Bhagat.

